October 26-27, 2018

The McNarama Alumni Center
200 SE Oak St
Minneapolis, MN 55455

43rd E.T. Bell Fall Pathology Symposium:
Dermatopathology and Pathology of Superficial Soft Tissue Lesions
Jointly Provided by the E. T. Bell Institute of Pathology, Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathology and Innovative Continuing Education, LLC and
The Minnesota Society of Pathologists' Seminar:
Clinically Relevant Dermatopathology Pathology of Superficial Soft Tissue Lesions Update
Jointly Provided by the Minnesota Society of Pathologists and Innovative Continuing Education, LLC
EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of the program, learners should be able to:
1. Describe diagnostic criteria and clinical relevance of common skin and superficial soft tissue lesions
2. Recognize the likely diagnostic pitfalls in these areas
3. Assemble an effective clinical context of their pathology practice
4. Interpret immunohistochemical, cytogenetics and molecular test results

STATEMENT OF NEED
This symposium will present recent advances in the field of skin and soft tissue pathology with emphasis on making clinically actionable interpretations of immunohistochemical and genomics testing. The presenters, who are experts in their fields, will tackle some of the common challenges such as the often limited size of submitted samples for testing, unfamiliarity of lesions and the mimics that present common pitfalls.

AUDIENCE
This conference would be ideal for practicing pathologists, pathology residents, dermatologists and oncologists.
